PUBLIC SPEAKING

Kiki Rosatti is a communication powerhouse, inspiring individuals, corporate teams, and political candidates to elevate their public speaking and on-camera presence. Her vibrant and personalized approach includes one-on-one and group consulting, drawing on each person's unique strengths to deliver unforgettable performances. She is the co-creator behind Powerful Public Speaking, a platform dedicated to transforming ordinary speakers into extraordinary communicators.

Kiki is a seasoned professional with over 30 years experience in broadcast television, acting in a variety of roles. She worked on a daily magazine-style show as a writer, producer, director, as well as hosting her own weekly segment. As Communication's Director, Kiki served as the spokesperson for the TV station with the media, as well as at local and national events. Utilizing the television station's on-air talent power, Kiki orchestrated star-studded events that aired both locally and nationally with celebrities like Oprah Winfrey, Melissa McCarthy, Ellen DeGeneres, Katie Couric, Jessica Lange, and Mariah Carey, cementing her reputation for successfully working with artists during live television events.

Kiki utilizes her extensive knowledge in media, communications, and public relations to drive impactful narratives. Her infectious energy makes her sought after by individuals and companies to enhance communication performance and presence.

She was at the forefront of masterminding the creation of an in-house advertising agency and production company where she wrote, produced and directed TV commercials.
